

Birdwatching Group, Lexton area

Saturday 1st March

We are looking establish a local bird watching group in the Lexton Landcare area.

All people are welcome to join us for our first bird walk on Sat 1st March.

The walk commences at 8.00 am at the cnr of Dip Rd and Gladstone St, Lexton, followed at 9.00am by a Landcare project on the Mount Emu Creek (Stepnell property), on Blackbottom Rd (0.4 km north of Clarks Rd)

People are welcome to join us at either or both sites.

About our guide:

Tim Hunt is a frequent visitor to the area and has extensively mapped birds for the Victorian Bird Atlas. Tim's knowledge is nothing short of amazing and he is always willing to share this with others.

What we are looking for: Our initial bird list for the area has 112 species on it, 15% of which are vulnerable or endangered. This means the information we collect at such events can be very valuable is assisting further Landcare works in coming years.

Picture: Swamp Harrier at Glenbrae

What to bring:

Good walking shoes, sun hat and sunscreen, water bottle and binoculars.

